

The Tragedy of Homo-Sapiens

By R. E. Osborne

“The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God” - Psalms 14:1

God Speaks:

Before the world was I.
Do you think I created Man to suffer and die?
My Word to Man I gave.
My Son I also sent
the lost to seek and save.

The Marxist shrieks:

“The opium of the masses”.
We come to liberate
The underprivileged classes.

The Capitalist booms:

A Philanthropist am I.
Ten thousand give I to the church
For a plaque there when I die.

The Scholar drones:

Religion is not for me.
There is no God.
I have a Ph.d.

(Fanfare of trumpets)

God Speaks:

The fools have spoken.
I shall have my say.
Standing in the ruins
On the latter day.
